NEW WEBSITE

We are very pleased with our new website. I hope you have all had a chance to look at this. There are lots of lovely photographs and loads of information. We are hoping this is easier to access and can be viewed easily on mobile device too. Please do get in touch if you have any suggestions for further improvements as we are able to make most changes easily ourselves. <https://www.felsted-pri.essex.sch.uk/>

We were so lucky to have Andrew Moffat from No Outsiders here on Tuesday. He delivered a lesson in every class and the children wowed him with their insightful and thoughtful ideas. The lessons were based around the themes of difference and equality.

No Outsiders is a scheme we are launching this year – it is a way of talking through ideas about differences in a respectful way through picture books. Teachers from schools across our partnership group joined us for a training session in the evening which was very well received. If any parents would like to know more this will be a topic for discussion at the parent forum.

ADHD AWARD

Exciting news – we are working towards getting an ADHD award for our school. Mrs Layzell and I attended some training this week to find out about what we will need to do to gain the award. We will keep you updated on our progress. ADHD is a condition that affects many children and adults and we are keen to see what we can do to support this in our school.

Brilliant – well done! ☺

Last week we had an education consultant in school to deliver some training sessions with staff. She also spent time in classes and went out to see the children at lunch and playtimes. She was extremely impressed with how well the children behave and said OPAL was "the best thing I've ever seen!" Just thought you would like to hear this lovely feedback.
